

JOY RIDE PODCAST

Episode #5

Theme: Joy found in release from poverty

Guest: Ronnie Mulema

Growing up in Uganda, Ronnie and his family were trapped in the hopelessness that poverty brings, until one day, when he was sponsored through international child development charity, Compassion. In this podcast, Ronnie shares his story and the transformation that sponsorship brought to him and his family.

'I define Joy as knowing that things will be OK and that you are loved for who you are'

- Ronnie was told to leave the school until he could pay school fees. Sponsorship through compassion enabled this to be paid for, alongside many other basic needs.
- The child's life is changed, his/her families lives are changed and YOUR life as a sponsor is changed.
- Sponsoring a child tells them they are loved unconditionally.

You've heard about the change in Ronnie's life. You can be the change in the life of another child in poverty. Become one of the 200 sponsors that I'm looking for in 2017.

Sponsor a child today
www.tom-elliott.org/compassion

'I can choose what I do in life now, mainly because of sponsorship'

www.joyridepodcast.co.uk

